Decided that the agenda for School Community Council should be hung up at school one week before our meeting.

Discussed summer school. It was suggested we could hold separate sessions for reading and math and include that in our new plan.

It was suggested we could use incentives for parents who volunteer at the school. We need to encourage parents to sign up for Smiths. Amazon may have a similar program for schools. Jerel Lofley is to ask Melissa Allred about collecting box tops this year.

It was discussed that we could have a writing contest with some incentive. We could kick the contest off with an author's visit.

We need to make reading fun: pillows, blankets, snacks could be included.

The meeting adjourned about 3:30 P.M.
